

agate toward the centre and disappear at a given radius. Note that the threshold for the circle appearance depends on the noise level. With previous less regulated motors, the threshold was found to be $Re \approx 70$ while with the motors now used this threshold is found to be $Re \approx 110$. On increasing the angular velocity, the circles are more